

APA Question and Answer Sessions

Citing information properly in APA style can be tricky, but it is essential to your success as a College for America (CfA) student. In addition to Goal-specific Q&A sessions, CfA also offers frequent Q&A sessions to help students learn how and when to add APA citations to their deliverables. These are free, regularly scheduled, live video sessions hosted by a CfA Goal Mentor. These sessions are open to multiple students at the same time, so you might benefit from hearing each other's questions answered by the Goal Mentor.

Who are Goal Mentors?

Goal Mentors are experienced CfA Reviewers who work full time for CfA and are eager to help you.

What does a student say about APA Q&A Sessions?

"I was part of the APA Q&A group this past week, and I have to say that it was incredibly helpful! To anyone having any issues or with questions regarding the APA formatting: do yourself a huge favor and make the time to be part of one of these sessions!"

How do I view upcoming sessions?

You can view upcoming Q&A Sessions by clicking on the link below that matches your local time zone:

Hawaii-Aleutian

Alaska

North American Pacific

North American Mountain

North American Central

North American Eastern

Central Africa

When you find a session you would like to attend, click on it and read the "Description" section to get its meeting link.

How do I join a session?

1. If you've never used GoToMeeting, you can learn more by viewing this quick start video.
2. Five minutes before the start time, copy and paste the web link provided in the calendar into your browser to view the video session, which will include images/screen sharing of the Projects in addition to the Goal Mentor who is speaking. You are welcome to share your webcam for a "face-to-face" experience or not; it's up to you.
3. You can hear the session using a headset or earbuds with a microphone plugged into your computer or by dialing the telephone number and access code provided in the calendar. If you are using only your computer, you must listen with a headset or earbuds to avoid creating an echo that will be distracting to everyone in the session. If you listen through your phone, please mute your computer.